

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

The investment objective for Symons Value Institutional Fund is "Long-term capital appreciation."

Our goal is long term total return, achieved by looking for temporarily low valuations relative to our view of long-term price opportunities, stock by stock. Over time, changing valuations present new investment opportunities that our intellectually independent research enables us to identify. Low valuations often lead us to temporarily unpopular sectors and companies. Rather than being contrarian, we prefer to call this behaving wisely, and not instinctively following the herd to what the popular media has told us is the current path to certain wealth.

ABOUT SYMONS CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

SYMONS CAPITAL MANAGEMENT (SCM) was founded in 1983, is 100% owned by its principals, and does all of its investment research in-house. Our clients include a complete array of long-term investors — corporate pension and profit sharing plans, foundations, other institutional investors, trusts, family partnerships and high-net worth individuals.

SCM relies on its independent, proprietary research to manage long-term investment portfolios of common stocks for its clients. Conducting intellectually independent securities research and managing client accounts based on that research is the firm's sole business.

Our investment philosophy and techniques were originally derived from years of investing for ourselves with the goal of long-term total return. We invest client funds exactly as we invest our own funds — with the goal of long-term total return. Over the long run, common stocks provide the best vehicle to achieve this goal, because they combine high potential returns, reasonable risk, high liquidity and good availability of information.

SCM is a multi-generation enterprise that is registered as an investment adviser with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

Some of the Fund's fees were waived or expenses reimbursed; otherwise, returns would have been lower.

Effective March 30, 2017, the Fund's benchmark was updated from the FTSE Russell 3000 Value Index to the S&P 500 Index was added, as the adviser determined that the S&P indices more closely align with the investment strategies of the Fund. The S&P 500 Index is an unmanaged index generally representing the performance of the broad domestic economy through changes in the aggregate market value of 500 stocks representing all major industries. The Russell 3000[®] Value Index is a market capitalization index made up of 3,000 of the largest US stocks. A direct investment in an index may involve different liquidity, risks and tax considerations. SCM may invest in securities outside of those represented in the indices.
